A goal set forth on May 30,1869 was to erect a monument to Rockaways fallen soldiers of the Civil War. It would take until 1892 for them to gather the land, the funds and the monument. It was dedicated to the townspeople on May 30,1892. The monument was Rededicated on May 30,1992 by the now Rock-away, Marcella and Denville Memorial Association.

*Minutes of the Public Meeting
May 30, 1869*

The grateful memory of our community for those who sacrificed their lives in defense of our country was shown by the large and sympathetic meeting held in this place (Presbyterian Church) on the last Monday in May 1869 for the purpose of commemoration of the service of our martyred and fallen soldiers of Rockaway Township, and to decorate the graves of those who have found their final resting place near those who cherish their memory with love and gratitude.

The meeting was organized by the appointment of Rev. J.R. Adams President, and Henry D. Tuttle Secretary, and was witnessed by Rev. Adams, C.C. Clark, Rev. O.P. Deyo, and others.

It was then :

RESOLVED— That this meeting be formed into a permanent society for the purpose of perpetuating the memory of our deceased soldiers who sacrificed their lives in the defense of our country and for the preservation of the Union.

In accordance with this resolution a permanent society was organized by the election of Rev. Adams President, Columbus Beach Vice-President, and Henry D. Tuttle Secretary.

The names of our deceased soldiers were read as far as they could be ascertained. The names of 66 were read, including the 11 buried in the cemetery.

RESOLVED _ That we erect a monument in the cemetery at Rockaway to our fallen and martyred defenders of our country from Rockaway Township, and on which their names be inscribed.

To carry into effect this resolution the following committees were appointed_

To collect money to erect a monument: Barnabus Stickle, Abraham Kitchell, Mahlon Hoagland, Stephen Cooper and Richard Stephens.

*To ascertain and record the names of the deceased soldiers with particulars to their services and deaths:
Rev. C.C. Clark, Edmund D. Halsey, and Henry Tuttle.*

The meeting then formed a procession and passed through the graveyard bestowing their tokens of love and gratitude on the mounds that mark the resting place of heroic and fallen defenders with the heartfelt resolve to cherish their memory and perpetuate it to future generations.

May 30, 2019 marks the 150th year that the Soldiers Association has recorded the names of the fallen hero's from the 3 towns. While our name has changed to reflect the growing and individual communities that came from then Rockaway Township, our purpose has remained the same.

What began as an order to the members of the first veterans organization as a gesture of healing to a war scarred nation has become the most solemn of our national holidays. Named Decoration Day by General John Logan in 1868 it wouldn't become Memorial Day until 1954. That year it was mandated that it include the veterans of all wars, and each would have the flag of The United States placed upon their grave.

In 1974 the date of May 30th was changed to the last Monday in May to give workers a 3 day weekend. No matter the date of Memorial Day it remains to us the day we honor all those who have served this nation and died.

We pay tribute to those who made the supreme sacrifice for our freedom this year, as we have done now for 150 years.

As we celebrate 150 years of dedication to this day, and to the communities, please join us in honoring our fallen hero's.

ROLL OF HONOR

*Soldiers from Rockaway Township who lost their lives during
The War of the Rebellion.*

On every great battlefield of the Middle States, in every Army of the Republic, and in the endurance of every prison horror, this township had its representative. First upon the roll are the names of the nineteen members of Company L, Twenty Seventh Regiment New Jersey Volunteers, who were drowned while effecting a crossing of the Cumberland River, in Kentucky, on May 5, 1863.

The regiment was enlisted for 9 months in September 1862, and Company L, Captain Henry W. Willis, was almost entirely from this township. The story of this disaster is told by Lieutenant Henry Lumsden, who was an eye witness:

"The Twenty-Seventh New Jersey Volunteers, One Hundred and Third Ohio, and Second East Tennessee left their camp at Stanford as the infantry part of a column pursuing the rebel General Morgan. After driving him out of Kentucky, they were returning to Somerset to be near their supplies, when they came to the Cumberland. When the Twenty Seventh reached the river they found two ropes across, fastened about one hundred yards apart to two trees on the north bank. The artillery was crossing by the lower rope and the infantry by the upper one, on flat boats manned by a detail from the Twelfth Illinois Regiment. As the boat containing our men was crossing and had reached the middle of the stream, the men lost their hold on the rope and the boat drifted down the stream. Reaching the lower rope the men manfully endeavored to throw the rope up over their heads, but the current, swelled by the recent rains was very swift and their effort unsuccessful. The rope caught and in an instant the boat was upset and sixty men were struggling together in the water. Most of them had their rifles, blankets and Equipment strapped to their shoulders, which prevented them from making the effort they might otherwise have made to escape.

Thirty two of the sixty were drowned. Some of the bodies were recovered and buried by their comrades, but others were never found."

Grand Army of the Republic

May 5, 1868

The thirtieth of May 1868 is designated for the purpose of strewing with flowers or otherwise decorating the graves of comrades who died in defense of their country, and whose bodies lie in almost every city, village and hamlet churchyard in the land.

All the consecrated wealth and care that the nation can add to their adornment and security is but a fitting tribute to the memory of her slain defenders. Let no wanton foot tread rude on such hallowed ground. Let pleasant paths invite coming and going of reverent visitors and fond mourners. Let no vandalism, or avarice, or neglect, no ravage of time, testify to the present or coming generations that we have forgotten the cost of a free and undivided country.

If other eyes grow dull, and other hands slack, and other hearts cold in the solemn trust, ours shall keep it well, as long as the light and warmth of life remains to us. Let us then, at the time appointed, gather round their sacred remains and garland the passionless mounds above them with the choicest flowers of springtime. Let us raise above them the grand old flag they saved from dishonor; let us, in their presence renew our pledges to aid and assist those whom they left among us—a sacred charge of a nations gratitude—the soldiers widows and orphans.

It is the purpose of the Commander in Chief to inaugurate this observance with the hope that it will be kept up from year to year, while a survivor of the war remains to honor the memory of his departed comrades.

By Order of:

*John A. Logan
Commander in Chief
Grand Army of the Republic*

CIVIL WAR TOMB OF THE UNKNOWN SOLDIER

BENEATH THIS STONE
REPOSE THE BONES OF TWO THOUSAND ONE HUN-DRED AND ELEVEN UNKNOWN SOLDIERS
GATHERED AFTER THE WAR
FROM THE FIELDS OF BULL RUN, AND THE ROUTE TO THE RAPPAHANNOCK, THEIR REMAINS COULD NOT BE IDENTIFIED. BUT THEIR NAMES AND DEATHS ARE REC-ORDED IN THE ARCHIVES OF THEIR COUNTRY, AND ITS GRATEFUL CITIZENS HONOR THEM AS OF THEIR NOBLE
ARMY OF MARTYRS.

MAY THEY REST IN PEACE.
